PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

INTRODUCING AN ENTRY-LEVEL OPTION FOR PERSPECTIVE—THE STANDARD EDITION. Available in conjunction with the release of Perspective Version 1.3.

Edmonton, Alberta, Canada—May 13, 2008—PPM 2000, the leading developer of Incident Reporting and Investigation Management software for security, safety and risk management, announced today the release of Perspective Version 1.3 and, with it, two levels of Perspective—Standard and Premium.

Over the past couple of years, Perspective by PPM 2000™ has become the Incident Reporting and Investigation Management system of choice for many organizations. During that time, PPM 2000 has often been asked about an entry-level version... something with the same quality, design and potential but with less functionality, a streamlined implementation process and a lower price. In response to these requests, PPM 2000 has added a second tier to the company's Perspective product line. Known as Perspective Standard, or the Standard Edition, it is geared toward organizations that want to limit the scope of their systems to incident management (without an investigation or case component) and who require less scalability and flexibility.

Commented Don Murphy, PPM 2000's President & CEO, "With the release of Perspective Standard, we can meet the Incident Management needs of more organizations and, most importantly, more of our IRIMS client base. It was a logical step for PPM to take, and we look forward to working with all levels of Perspective as we continue to enhance and expand our Incident Management software line."

About Perspective by PPM 2000:
